

Data Access, Governance, & Security

Quarterly Meeting

February 25, 2021

Meeting Agenda

I Data Cookbook - Update

II Data Governance Website - Update

III Data Governance Roles Training - Outcomes

IV Annual Check-in Procedures for Functional Areas

V Kudos

VI Next Steps / Questions & Discussion

Data Cookbook Update

Cookbook training

- Five of seven training groups complete
- Training for all data stewards will be complete by end of March

Standards document

- Updated and now available on Data Gov website

Definition approval

- Currently approving definitions in Standards Approval stage
- Items by stage: Functional (64) , Technical (3), Steward (9), Standards (9)

Data Governance Website

- Please check us out at - <https://datagov.gsu.edu/>
 - Primary source for data governance information
- Working to go 'live' on GSU main site
- New items:
 - Cookbook roles defined
 - Link to 411 DataGov Assist (starts March 9th)
 - Standards Document
 - Cookbook training videos for data delegates

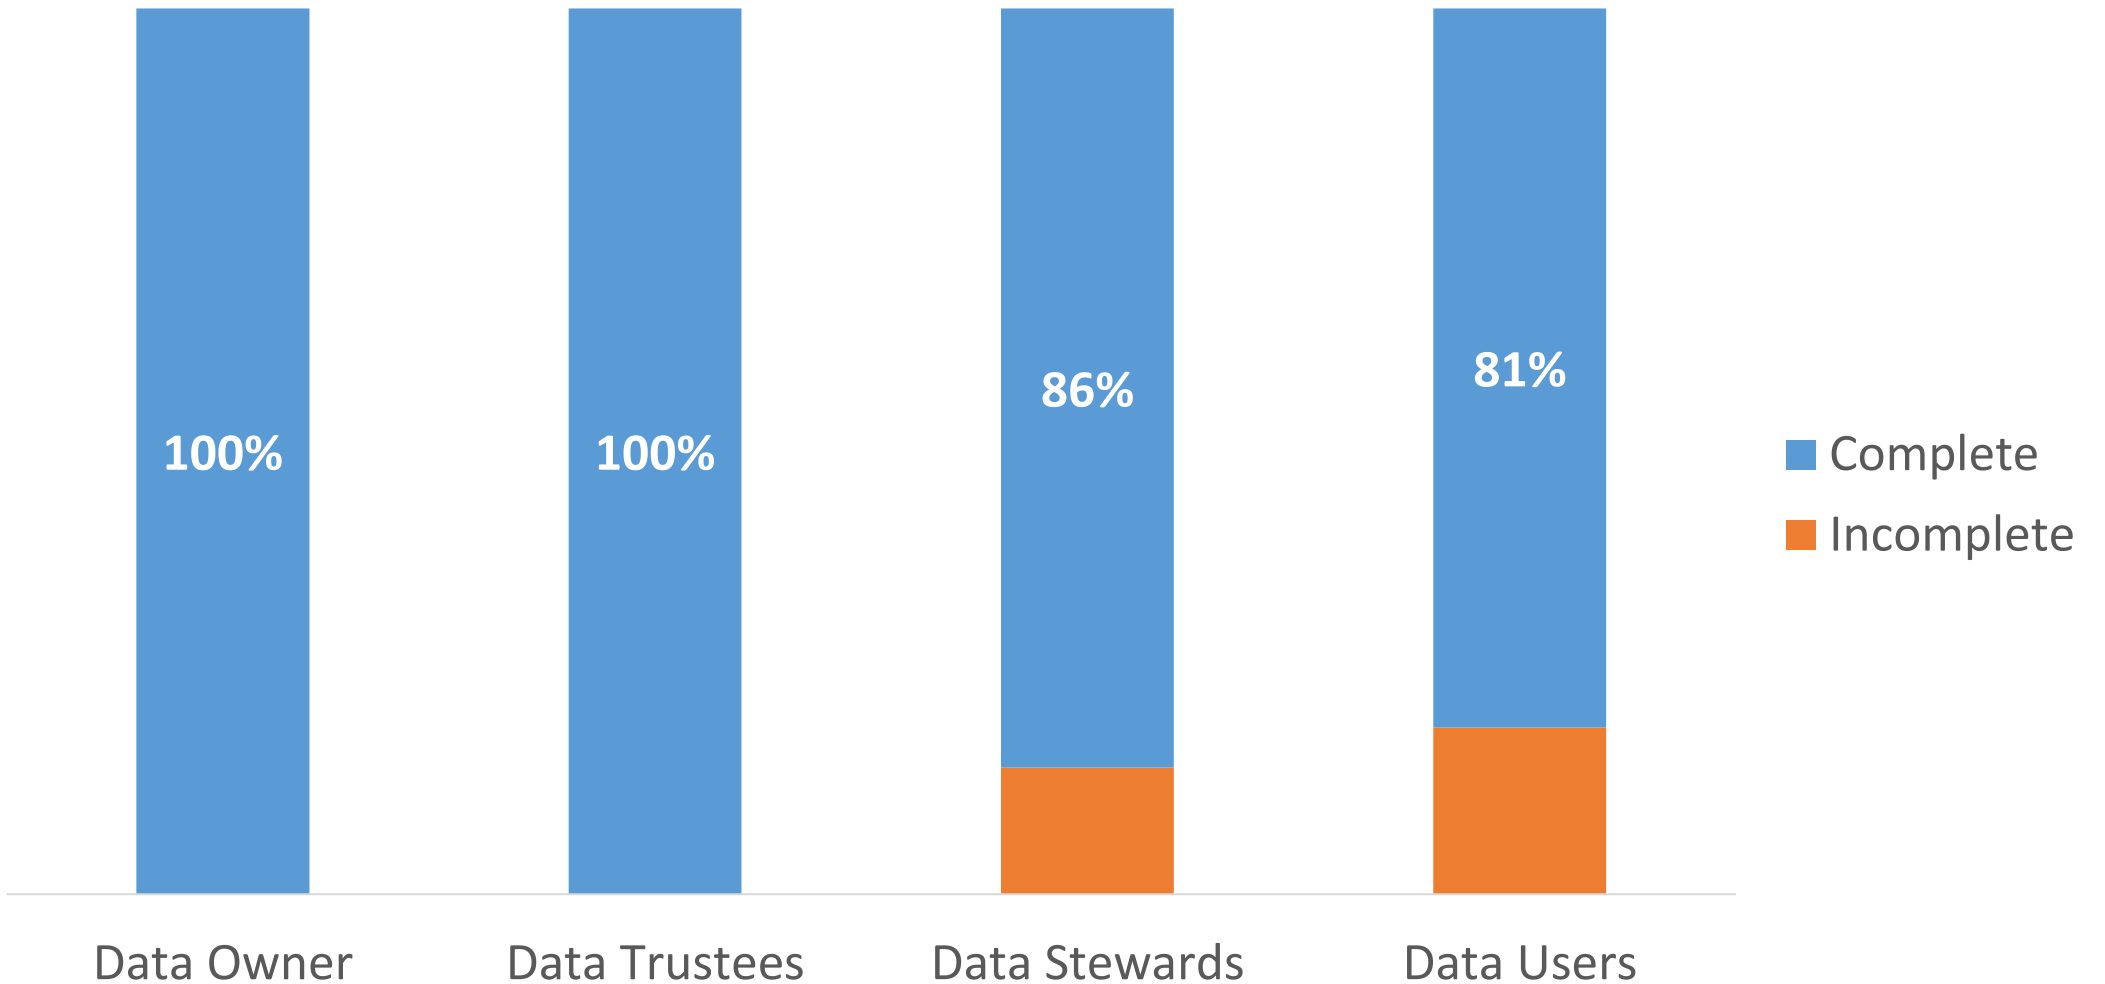

Data Governance Roles Training

- The goal of the training modules in Fall 2020 was to deliver the content required and provided by the University System of Georgia.
- Fall 2021 training will include new content that is based on the GSU specific procedures implemented in the last year.
- The most recent training can be found at <https://datagov.gsu.edu/training/>

Data Governance Roles Training Outcomes

Annual Check-in Procedures

- Data governance is an ongoing initiative.
- Regular maintenance is an important part of ensuring that GSU stays up to date and has effective data governance in the future.
- We plan to meet annually with data stewards, and their teams, to document any updates or changes and to help fill any gaps that may exist.
- We will provide a template of the topical areas that we hope to discuss ahead of the check-in.

Kudos!

- “I’ve been involved in many implementations of data governance at a multitude of universities during my time at IData, and, in my opinion, Georgia State is implementing the Cadillac of data governance.”

-Brenda Reeb, Senior Data Management Consultant
- YOUR active participation has played and continues to play a role in making data governance at GSU successful. Thank you!

Next Steps...

- Meet one-on-one with Erik + Melissa (at conclusion of training)
- Work with your teams to populate Cookbook with area definitions
- Reach out to Melissa with questions (email or via 411 DataGov Assist)
- Next DAG meeting in May
 - Invite will be sent in mid-March

Questions / Discussion

- Data Governance Website: <https://datagov.gsu.edu>
- Email: datagov@gsu.edu
- Data Cookbook Website: <http://gsu.datacookbook.com>

